Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 16 is objected to because of the following informalities: the word "increasing" on line 4 is obviously a grammatically incorrect form of the root word. Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-19 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-30 of U.S. Patent No. 6,351,672. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the present claims are merely broader versions of the patented claims. Once the applicant has received a patent for a species or a more specific embodiment, he is not entitled to a patent for the generic or broader invention (see In re Goodman, 11 F. 3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993)).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-19 would be allowable upon the submission of an acceptable terminal disclaimer to obviate the double patenting rejection.

Regarding claim 1, the prior art of record does not appear to disclose circuitry that is responsive to a predetermined change in patient activity level. The devices of Alt ('317) and Sheldon et al. ('297) contain circuitry that is responsive to a predetermined change in patient posture –not activity level (the examiner agrees with the applicant's assessment of the Alt reference in the present specification in so far as its production of a static output). While it could be argued that since any change in activity level would be concomitant with a change in posture, said devices are therefore inherently responsive to a change in patient activity level, it is not clear that such a change in activity level would be predetermined.

Regarding method claim 9, the steps of monitoring the patient's activity level for a predetermined change in the activity level and pacing at an orthostatic compensation pacing rate if the predetermined change is sensed, is not taught by prior artisans.

Concerning claim 15, the recited means for processing the signals to determine a predetermined change in patient activity level and for implementing an orthostatic compensation therapy based on said change, is not disclosed by prior artisans..

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Kennedy Schaetzle whose telephone number is (703) 308-2211. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F from 9:30 - 6:00.
